

From Strategy to Implementation— Across the Entire Supply Chain

Helping clients achieve supply chain excellence since 1973.

A unique consultancy dedicated to helping clients tackle their distinct supply chain needs and challenges

Miebach—The Supply Chain Engineers

Miebach Consulting was founded 1973 in Frankfurt, Germany and has successfully executed more than 10,000 international projects over 45 years. With more than 350 employees in 24 offices around the world, Miebach is one of the leading supply chain focused consulting and logistics engineering companies.

From Indianapolis to Shanghai, from Berlin to Santiago de Chile: Across the globe, Miebach Consulting writes stories of success by integrating global supply chain consulting and local engineering services.

Our Supply Chain Engineering approach designs and integrates value chains, network structures, processes and intralogistics along the Supply Chain. Strategy, organization and technology are taken into consideration. As a result you get what we stand for: Supply Chain Excellence.

As a holistic consultancy and engineering enterprise, Miebach sets the standard in the combination of strategic knowledge and implementation capabilities. Our experience in research, development and best practice makes us a natural partner for companies that need to respond dynamically to change and we ensure that all objectives can be achieved in the implementation of their projects.

“Miebach Consulting has worked with Canada Post to provide concept design, business case analysis, profiling, facility layout designs of material and personnel flows and processes improvement. We consider Miebach Consulting a competent and valued consultant for Logistics Engineering - including automation and process integration.”

Bill Hall, Senior Lead Sort Processes Postal Transformation
Canada Post

“Eli Lilly and Company has successfully partnered with Miebach on large supply chain projects. Our successful partnership was due in large part to the high quality consultants and engineers on the Miebach team.”

Strategy Meets Implementation

From procurement to production and distribution through to the market: our services span the complete supply chain. We conduct holistic studies of strategies, business operations and logistics functions and develop detailed solutions for the entire supply chain or specific sectors, always ensuring on-time implementation.

Supply Chain Transformation

Companies and their supply chains require continual adjustments due to global competition and changing customer needs. The measures for supply chain optimization developed and implemented by Miebach achieve sustainable competitive advantages.

Engineering and Implementation

More than four decades ago Dr. Miebach adopted a custom-ized approach to the optimization of distribution and production processes and began to design and implement logistics facilities, independence and neutrality still characterize our work today. Our know-how and market insight continues to enable Miebach to develop and realize automated warehouses and robotic applications today.

Operational Excellence

As no two companies are identical, Miebach's analysis and recommendations meet the individual needs of its customers. We optimize processes on multiple operational levels to improve overall performance and to create value streams.

Having always maintained a model of an independent advisor, we only recommend solutions, systems, or software that will maximize the returns of our client's investment.
